

REKSO

Founded by Mr. Soegiharto Sosrodjojo in the 1950s, REKSO is a diversified entity with concentration in tea and beverage, property, plantation, printing and packaging, wellness and food. Rekso's flagship companies in Indonesia include a majority shareholding in PT. SINAR SOSRO, one of Indonesia's largest beverage companies and PT. GUNUNG SLAMAT, the country's no.1 tea manufacturer.

These two flagships form Rekso's core business. In addition, Rekso also owns Indonesia's largest private tea plantation and holds the master franchise of McDonald's in Indonesia.

Rekso's ready-to-drink products are produced by its leading subsidiary, Sinar Sosro. The products are of the highest quality, which make them market leaders in their respective categories. Tehbotol Sosro is probably the most well known Indonesian beverage brand. Its all-natural ingredients and unique taste make it the best selling product of Sinar Sosro, with a sales volume that is unmatched by any of its competitors.

Other Sinar Sosro products have also become favourites with the Indonesian consumers. Their taste appeal is global, and thus consumers in other countries also enjoy these products as much as the Indonesians do, which is evidenced by their international sales' growth over the past years.

Rekso's ready-to-serve products are produced by its subsidiary Gunung Slamet, the no.1 tea company in Indonesia.

Gunung Slamet's long association with tea ensures that its products are of exceptional qualities, which is evidenced by the strong market presence of the flagship brands: Sosro, Teh Cap Botol and Teh Cap Poci. The company's production process combines highly skilled employees with state-of-the-art technologies from Germany, Italy and Japan, among others.

In June 2008, Gunung Slamet's US subsidiary, Tasseo, Inc, launched Tasseo pyramid bags at the Fancy Food Show in New York, USA. These pyramid bags with unique blends, such as Java Jasmine, Irresistible Peach and Calming Lemongrass, received enthusiastic responses from the trade delegates at this premier food & beverage exhibition.
